

MEATS

16 Cuts Above Any Steakhouse

This Brazilian-inspired restaurant specializes in slow-roasted and perfectly seasoned cuts of beef, lamb, pork, chicken, and Brazilian sausage. This technique comes to the United States straight from Southern Brazil, where Gauchos (cowboys) prepare meals over a campfire.

At Texas de Brazil, the skilled gauchos journey through the restaurant with the grilled meats on sword-like skewers taken directly off the grill, stopping at each table to carve slices for diners. This style of service allows guests to experience a wide variety of offerings, including the following mouth-watering selections:

Filet Mignon

Leg of Lamb

Filet Mignon Wrapped in Bacon

Lamb Chops

Chicken Breast Wrapped in Bacon

Pork Ribs

Parmesan Drumettes

Brazilian Picanha

Parmesan-Crusted Pork Loin

Garlic Picanha

Flank Steak

Brazilian Sausage

Herb-Marinated Pork Loin

Chicken Sausage
